July SPOTLIGHT:

Frequently employees are promoted to supervisory or people management positions because they are good at the job they're doing. But a whole new skill set is necessary to become an effective people manager and leader. ETI has developed a course that is designed to help you develop those critical skills, including working through others, helping a team be productive, resolving conflicts, giving feedback, correcting performance problems, and coaching. Prepare yourself for your future. A well-trained supervisor provides leadership, stability and is the "face" of the company to its employees.

The class meets Wednesdays from 4:30 pm to 8:30 pm starting July 23 and ending September 3, for more information contact ETI at 661 362-5657 or email sherie.arnold@canyons.edu.
